Growing Your Business

Out-distance the competition

At Bell, we know that long distance service is more than just making and receiving calls from your long distance customers. It is about expanding your business and providing your organization with a tactical advantage over your competition in both a cost effective and hassle-free way.

Bell also understands that business today has no borders and that means long distance access and service options are critical to your business growth strategy. To effectively compete, you need access to virtually anywhere in the world. But more than that, you need a Business Long Distance service that offers plenty of useful and easy to use features. With Bell, you get just that.

Bell's Business Long Distance service comes with a host of valuable features that you can customize to suit your needs. Our service:

- Gives you access to anywhere in North America, and to over 240 countries around the world.
- Lets you track call expenses – you can assign calls to projects, departments, individuals or limit calls to only those assigned access to long distance – all by simply using an account code as part of your call dialing.
- Lets you tailor the service to meet your unique needs:
  - You can choose to apply verified or non-verified account codes.
  - You can tailor your account codes to each customer or each phone line.
  - You can specify what country codes or area codes can be dialed.

Bell's Business Long Distance service is simple to set up and easy to administer:

- There are no transfer or set up fees.
- All calls are billed to one invoice.
- Bell's billing engine tracks calls in convenient timing and billing increments.

As with all our products, Bell's Long Distance service is supported by superior customer service. We offer:

- Three points of contact to ensure your satisfaction: our Toll-free customer service line, our Repair Operations Centre, and, of course, your Account Executive.
- Business Long Distance alone, or custom-packaged with other products and services to suit your communication needs.
- Flat rates for domestic and international long distance calls.

Bell Intrigna Long Distance – Engineered to suit you.
